The application displays a message upon installation, giving you the choice of choosing the location to install the application on your system.Super Bowl: Which Super Bowl teams are going all-in? Tony Romo, the Cowboys quarterback, went 4-of-5 for 57 yards against the Redskins last week. As of this writing, the only two Super Bowl teams to start the season 0-2 are the Broncos and the Packers. The Broncos were so abysmal in the season opener they had to be pulled from the game in the fourth quarter by the coach, who was not at the game. The loss came just over a year after John Fox was forced to resign because of a child sexual abuse scandal. Now the Broncos are in yet another season of turmoil under his replacement, Gary Kubiak, who is 1-1 as a head coach. Those problems are amplified by the fact that Denver already has to be without linebacker Danny Trevathan for the game. He is tied to the NFL for the most catches in a season. On the other hand, Green Bay has plenty of depth at quarterback. And Aaron Rodgers may be the NFL's best player, but is he the NFL MVP? While injuries have taken their toll on the Packers, they are able to use rookies and unproven reserves in their secondary. The Packers won the Super Bowl less than a year ago and are arguably the two best teams in the game. That's not good news for Green Bay. "I think we're a better team right now than we were last year," quarterback Aaron Rodgers said Wednesday. Joe Robbins/Getty Images A great game is coming up in
