SimpLite-Yahoo is a secure messenger using the Yahoo! Messenger protocol and communications (but NOT the application). It provides encryption for all Yahoo! Messenger's protocol for communication from your home or office computer. SimpLite-Yahoo supports AES 128, AES 256, RSA 1024, RSA 2048, RSA 4096, and RSA 8192 Encryption Algorithms. SimpLite-Yahoo accepts multiple simultaneous connections to the Yahoo! Messenger 5.0 protocol, providing a total potential limit of 256 connections.

Yahoo! Messenger Version 5.0 Beta 2 Notes: SimpLite-Yahoo 5.0 Beta 2 features: 5.0 Beta 2 (Build 189) introduces the following changes: - Scheduler changes for enhanced performance and power savings (Static and Dynamic mode settings are no longer permanent; accounts that have been set to "permanent", "always" or "never" will need to be reset. Scheduling will be done before decrypting and transferring new messages; a notification message will be sent to the user asking if the scheduling should be adjusted on a manual basis or not. A manual scheduling will switch the accounts to "permanent", "always" or "never". The user will be able to manually adjust the schedule for every account at least once per week. - Added support for the long-term releases of Vista and Windows 7 for the Hosts Explorer. You can use the host's explorer instead of the built-in one to select an individual folder and save it, much like you can with the previous version of SimpLite. - Added the ability to disconnect any specific user or the whole account. - Made the Notify When Sending Multiple Message addresses with Allowed Users mode button behave as buttons, to avoid confusion between them and the already present # and : in that mode. - Improved the resource usage on each message to be sent. - Removed the Save Log option for windows computers. - Fixed a rare crash when Yahoo! Messenger has not finished loading. - Fixed a few messages looking like spam in the inbox. - Fixed a message transfer error in the status bar when using the Hosts Explorer. - Fixed a user notification to appear when using the Hosts Explorer. - Reverted the Status Bar Notify When Sending Multiple Messages addresses back to the old look. - Improved the error handling in the event a connection time out occurs. - Fixed 09e8f5149f

SimpLite-Yahoo is the new version of the SimpLite family. SimpLite is the original predecessor of the SimpLite-Yahoo. SimpLite handles Yahoo and AIM IM services. SimpLite-Yahoo is the most advanced version of SimpLite and goes for Yahoo! Messenger. At the same time, SimpLite-Yahoo was designed in order to satisfy the requirements of professional users: - Microsoft.Net and Mono, and opensource projects like Pidgin, are easily integrated (only with the source code, not the original binaries). SimpLite-Yahoo integrates nicely with other Microsoft.Net products: it can handle multiple IM services, offers the possibility of automatically generating passwords and can even support the system password dialog. - The GUI looks like Microsoft.Net, in order to satisfy users from both the .Net and Mono projects. - FTP and MAPI/CalDav transports are supported. - A pluggable implementation of the XMPP open protocol allows the use of any compatible XMPP client. - In secure mode, login and authorization are handled by a Lightweight Directory Access Protocol (LDAP). SimpLite-Yahoo can handle both anonymous and named user bases. - A full blown application logger, compatible with almost all mainstream loggers (TestAIDE included), can be built. - Trusted Connection builds with various authentication methods. - A PKI infrastructure is built in, compatible with the SDSI-SGX architecture. - There are experimental plugins to handle OTRs, GnuPG, PGP, X.509 and a list of SSL cryptographic types (X.509 CA certs, CSR, key pairs, pkcs12 files...) - A dialog to explain bad password handling to the user - Full featured configuration dialogs - A choice between a clean, uncluttered and clear interface or a more colourful style with animations and easy to use clicky buttons - A User Guide - A package installation script that can be run on most Linux/BSD distributions. - Able to handle IM services found in your system's library of IM applications, such as GTalk, Trillian, Yahoo!, AIM, MSN... - A bundled version of the Universal Profile Library (UPL) - A bundled version of the MS security update tool - A bundled version of the Disk
