know-how. Clean your system from unneeded files PC Win Booster Free deals with all the areas that stand the risk of cluttering your computer, namely temporary Internet files, empty folders, junk data, broken shortcuts, the Recycle Bin and browser toolbars. You can make a selection of the system sections that you consider in need of a cleanup, although it is recommended that you perform the operation for all of them, at least once. Also, another almost compulsory precaution is a backup of the registry, to have as a recovery solution if something goes wrong. Integrated uninstaller and dupe finder The program quickly scans common computer areas and comes up with a full report of the errors identified during it. Moreover, you have the possibility to manually select the files to be deleted during the fix-up stage. There's no harm in running the utilities twice, in order to be sure that nothing toxic resides on your system anymore. In addition to the cleaning module, you will also benefit from a program uninstaller that serves to remove programs that are installed on the computer, as well as a duplicate file finder that quickly spots dupe content and deletes it with the purpose of regaining valuable space. An easy to work with system optimization tool PC Win Booster Free makes it possible for you to quickly clean up your PC, also providing tools for uninstalling applications and getting rid of duplicate files that occupy storage space. All in all, PC Win Booster Free comes across as an intuitive and easy to use computer optimizer, but lacks the means to backup the registry before proceeding to the cleanup operation, as most similar applications do. You will have to Replace the number to find with the number to replace. Repeat the steps 2 and 3 until you get the right answer. It's not hard to see how we can apply these steps to the problem in the example above. Let's start with the problem statement: find the difference between the numbers in the list, find the number that equals to -1, then subtract the number by that one from each element in the list, find the difference between the remaining numbers, find the
