1. 1. Create a new layer and type the following text: Anytime you create a new layer, the layer you're creating becomes the first layer of that layer group and is always on top. Double-click on the paper icon in the Layers panel to go to the default Layer > New Layer menu, as shown in Figure 1-1, which you'll learn more about in Chapter. Figure 1-1. You can always create a new layer by clicking the Layer icon on the Layers panel or double-clicking on the paper icon in the Layers panel. The paper icon appears in the Layers panel whenever there is a new layer being added. 2. Rename the new layer a Blurred Background using the Layer > Rename menu. Note that you can also rename a layer, simply by double-clicking on the layer name. Once the layer is renamed, it is easy to delete or insert a layer by dragging a layer from one layer group to another. For example, you can delete an image layer by dragging it from the Photo shoot group to the Background group. 3. Create a new layer above the Blurred Background layer and type the following text: This new layer becomes the layer in the foreground of the layer group. 4. Name this new layer a Background Layer using the Layer > Rename menu. You now have three different layers on top of your image, as shown in Figure 1-2. Figure 1-2. I've created three layers—each a different part of the background. The top layer is the blurred background layer I created in the previous step. The middle layer is the Background layer I created in this step. The bottom layer is my new layer of the Foreground layer. You can view these layers by clicking the eye icon in the Layers panel. 5. Increase the brightness of the top layer by pressing the opacity slider, which is located to the right of the layer title in the Layers panel (see Figure 1-3). In the Layers panel, the top layer is visible as the layer with the eye icon and has some transparency in the opacity area. Press the Opacity slider to increase the opacity of the Blurred Background layer. Figure 1-3. To change the opacity of a layer, increase or decrease the opacity slider. 6. Decrease the opacity of the bottom layer (the Fore

I have been using Photoshop for the last decade. However, over time I found the graphic editing tools I was using often to be inadequate. These tools are not as user friendly as Photoshop. Photoshop is a complex tool. Not everyone can handle Photoshop. If you need to edit images, it is certainly the best editor to use to edit and customize images. In this article, I will provide you with the top features of Photoshop, which are most commonly used in graphic design. # Top Photoshop Features To Be Considered While Using Photoshop Image Resize, Cropping and Zooming: This is the key to making your pictures look crisp and clear. Most of the amateur photographers and designers often overlook cropping and resizing images. Cropping and resizing your images is one of the important features to use for your images. You can resize your pictures in every direction, from 50% to 900%. You can also add or remove objects from an image. Keyboard Shortcuts Text Tools: This is the next most important feature of Photoshop. All professional Photoshop photographers and designers use all kinds of text effects and tools to create eye-catching text. You can use the following features and tools for text: Align: Horizontal, Vertical, and Center Text. Rotate: Rotate and Flip Text. Effects: Shadow, Bevel, Emboss, Inner Shadow, Outer Shadow, Glamour Glow, Linen, Inside Out, Gradient, Inner Bevel, Bevel, Emboss, Stencil, Styling, and Sketch. Fonts: Working With Brushes: You can use the following brushes for painting: Tracing: Tracing is the best tool to create textures and you can use it in Photoshop. You can also use it to create bevel and emboss effects. Selecting an area for watermarking or painting something. Painting in the color panel. Photoshop Elements is not capable of using all these features, but it has a bunch of brushes, text tools, and other features that you can use. Adjusting Brightness/Contrast: In addition to resizing and cropping, this is another important feature. You can increase or decrease the contrast in your images to make them look crisper. # Top Photoshop Filter Features Handling and Use of a681f4349e

The present invention relates to a process for preparing powdery polymer compositions that contain a natural polymer and at least one different type of polymer. Powdery polymer compositions are a preparation which, as a rule, are prepared starting from spherical or elongated granules. The frequently used different types of polymer are, in particular, polyethylene, polypropylene, a mixture of polyethylene and polypropylene, styrene, and graft polymers of styrene and acrylonitrile. There are processes in which dry powdered polymers are first granulated and in which the granules that have been obtained are then blended with natural polymers. However, the known processes have the disadvantage that a relatively high proportion of polymers are needed to obtain a uniform product. Attempts have therefore been made to introduce the polymer in the granules in the form of polymer solutions or polymer dispersions. European application 0-1318 579 discloses polymer compositions consisting of a granulate with an inert core which is composed of polyethylene and to which a polymer dispersed in vinyl butyl chloride is fixed. In the process, the granulate is mixed in an extruder with vinyl acetate and the polymer dispersed in vinyl butyl chloride is introduced in the extruder and additionally extruded at a temperature between 60.degree. and 120.degree. C. with the aid of a kneading blade. European application 0-292 262 discloses polymer compositions consisting of granulates which are composed of an inert core to which a polymer dispersed in vinyl butyl chloride is fixed. This process involves a granulate containing inert pieces on whose surface is a polymer dispersed in vinyl butyl chloride. The granulate is mixed with vinyl acetate in a twin-screw extruder and the polymer dispersed in vinyl butyl chloride is introduced with the aid of a kneading blade. European application 0-133 463 describes a process for the production of polymer compositions in which polymer granules are wetted with a solution of a monomer to which the polymer is soluble at temperatures below 60.degree. C. and are then mixed with a binder which is also dissolved in the monomer. In the case of the known processes, polymer granules are converted into the polymer in the preparation of the polymer composition. Generally, the polymer is present in an amount of at least 20% by weight. This is very high; for the polymer, the proportion of polymer granules is of importance. Only the polymer, which is

Blackburn finish on top of Midlands League Blackburn St Lawrence secured the Midlands League Division 1 title with a comfortable 0-3 away win over local rivals Blakeney Wanderers. Jason Pope signed off his tenure as manager of the Bantams with a double and goals from Mark O'Neill and Sam Wright. Wright raced clear to score from a corner just after the half-hour mark and an unmarked Pope then doubled the lead on 65 minutes, blasting over a helpless goalkeeper. Blackburn laid into Blakeney again after the break and Pope crowned his managerial debut with a third goal in stoppage time. Blakeney remain in tenth place in the league, which has seven teams. Blackburn boss Pope said: "In the first half we played well, we were good on the ball, looked fluent in possession and had a lot of pressure on the opposition goalkeeper. "In the second half we stuck to the game plan we'd set out for, we weren't as creative as we were in the first half, but we kept the ball well and had a good amount of pressure on them. "We managed to get the ball in good areas and we saw it out to the right with Sam Wright who finished from a lovely cross. "We knew they had weaknesses on the left, and we found a way to exploit that." Blackburn finished the season unbeaten, with five wins from five, scoring 14 goals without reply and conceding only two. Blakeney were abysmal in the second half, making just a handful of chances and losing their goalkeeper just after the half-hour mark for a broken leg. In the process of inflicting this relegation on their near neighbours, Blackburn already built up a 2-0 lead. The last-minute equaliser was nothing more than a consolation, but Pope said: "The second half we weren't as good as the first. We're delighted to get the win, but the players are disappointed they weren't good enough. "They've been fantastic, they've been amazing for me and they've been the only reason I've been able to get this win. They've been excellent over the season."
