The program supports a number of firmware versions, including 5.11.4, 7.1, 7.2, 7.3, 8.3, and 9.3. This means that the software is able to unlock iPhones no matter which carrier is being used or which specific version of iOS. The software also works fine with all previous firmware versions. The program works well and is easy to use, though it seems that the program was not tested too extensively. You just need to run the software that comes with it, unpack it and run the setup. After that, you will be asked to create an account at the website, of course. As the software version is updated frequently, you should be sure that you have the latest version before unlocking your device. When the software is used correctly, the result will be a perfectly unlocked iPhone, which can be used with the T-Mobile network. You can unlock your device, no matter what carrier it is locked to, as long as the OS you are currently running on your iPhone is 7.2 or later. The program is best suited for people who own iPhones unlocked by T-Mobile and that are currently using an OS version that is 7.2 or later. You should be warned that the software may not work if your phone is running on firmware versions that are later than 7.2. iPhone Unlock Toolkit Review: iPhone Unlock Toolkit worked like a charm, effectively letting me unlock my iPhone. I was surprised to see that I didn't have to perform anything special to get the job done. Though some users have complained about having to set the software to start automatically, I am glad that I was able to avoid this hassle. The software is very safe to use, I can vouch for that. To sum things up, iPhone Unlock Toolkit is an effective software tool that deserves a place in your unlock toolkit. It is extremely easy to use and much safer than the other programs I have tried. It is definitely worth using. iPhone Unlock Toolkit iPhone Unlock Toolkit Overview This is probably the most common iPhone unlocking software in the world.
